$21,000,000

for community-engaged research projects on topics related to indigenous child welfare, sustainable waste management, affordable housing, social innovation, water governance, environmental health, aging, homelessness and HIV prevention among many others.

2. ACADEMIC UNIT SCAN OF IMPACT across the 93 academic units with over 165 occurrences of impact in the 5 OCUE engagement pillars there is an exhaustive quantity, in scope and breadth, of contribution and impact to society in each of the OCUE pillars of engagement:

Linking Impact to the UN Sustainable Development Goals

Data from the 2014-15 Uvic Enhanced Planning Tool
Level of impact = unit occurrence by project/partnership/program/event/experiential opportunity etc

Individual: e.g., changed skills, behavior, attitudes, knowledge or understanding
Community: e.g., changes to a project, new collaborations or ideas
Systems: e.g, could take the form of changes to policy, structures or to national/provincial agendas
Where are we having an impact?

Outside of Canada 18%
Other Canadian provinces/territories 10%
Other areas in BC 16%
Vancouver Island 33%
Greater Victoria 76%

2 COMMUNITY ENGAGED LEARNING

Students worked with members of the Lyackson First Nation on a community-initiated "Lyackson Migration Project." The students aided the community in gathering information and recording oral history about Valdes Island, preparing a final report for the Lyackson Nation. Thom's work has supported assertions of aboriginal rights, capacity-building for self-governance of lands and resources, and public education. (Brian Thom’s ANTH 433 course in Spring 2014)

Students working with Jewish Cemetery Committee to map and document El-Emanuel cemetery. Project began 2015 and expected to run until 2018. (Erin McGuire, Anth 395)

The “Coast Salish Language Revitalization” project partnered the Linguistics department with the Saanich Native Heritage Society, the Hul’q’umi’num’ Treaty Group, First Peoples’ Heritage, Language and Culture Council, and First Peoples’ Cultural Foundation to form a “research alliance” and to build capacity in communities for the revitalization of traditional languages and the cultures they in part define. (Linguistics).

3 KNOWLEDGE MOBILIZATION

Many staff, faculty and students participate in the Scientists in the Schools program. This program involves school visits (both on and off campus) during which elementary students are introduced to the wonders of science. Tours and visits to specific labs are also common and are accommodated whenever possible. (Chemistry)

The Asian Canadian Working Group, based at UVic, partnered with the Chinese Consolidated Benevolent Association and the Chinese Public School for the digital history project, “Victoria’s Chinatown: Gateway to the Past and Present of Chinese Canadians (History)

The School’s impact reaches global dimensions through the live web-casting of concerts and online public archive. (Music)

"Community Engaged Research (CER) is a collaborative approach to research that democratically involves community participants and researchers in one or more phases of the research process. The goals are positioned from the outset to achieve knowledge translation and exchange outcomes and typically this is the result of prolonged engagement, shared priorities and two-way exchange of knowledge."
